Karnataka unveils ‘India ‘s First Quantum City ‘Blueprint in Bengaluru Tech Summit

Published On: 22-11-2025

In November 2025, N.S. Boseraju, Science & Technology Minister of Karnataka, revealed the blueprint for India’s first-ever Quantum City (Q-City), proposed at Hesaraghatta (Karnataka), during the 28th Bengaluru Tech Summit (BTS 2025) in Bengaluru (Karnataka), under its Rs.1,000 crore Quantum Mission.

About Quantum City:

Quantum Innovation Hub: The Quantum City is planned as a comprehensive innovation hub, featuring research labs, a Quantum Hardware Park, cryogenic testing facilities, quantum cloud/data centers, and a deep-tech startup district.

Ecosystem: The Quantum City will offer end-to-end support for quantum technologies, covering research, incubation, and commercialisation.

Quantum Supremacy Centre: Karnataka will establish a Rs.1,136 crore Quantum Supremacy Centre in Bengaluru to focus on quantum chip fabrication.
