It is also performed in the south Canara districts of Karnataka and Kasaragod district of Kerala.

Yakshagana is performed in open-air theatres.

It is usually performed in the village paddy fields after the winter crop has been harvested.

It is a temple art form that depicts mythological stories and Puranas.

It is performed with massive headgears, elaborate facial make-up and vibrant costumes and ornaments.

Usually recited in Kannada, it is also performed in Malayalam as well as Tulu (the dialect of south Karnataka).

It is performed with percussion instruments like chenda, maddalam, jagatta or chengila (cymbals) and chakratala or elathalam (small cymbals).
