Heart Lamp glows, story collection wins the Booker prize for Banu and Deepa

Published On: 22-05-2025

Context

- Kannada writer, lawyer, and activist Banu Mushtaq, 77, began writing about her people, their joys, sorrows and anxieties, over five decades ago.
- On Tuesday, Heart Lamp, a collection of 12 short stories selected from her work written between 1990 and 2023 and translated by Deepa Bhasthi, won the International Booker Prize for 2025 from a shortlist featuring books in French, Italian, Danish, and Japanese.
- It's a first win for Kannada, and the first time in the history of the prize that a collection of short stories has been honoured.
- The award for an Indian writer comes three years after Geetanjali Shree won the prestigious literary prize for Tomb of Sand, translated from Hindi by Daisy Rockwell.

Booker Prize

- The Booker Prize was first awarded in 1969. The inaugural Booker Prize was awarded to P.H. Newby for his novel "Something to Answer For".
- Founders: Tom Maschler and Graham C Greene.
- Until 2014, only novels written by Commonwealth, Irish, and South African citizens were eligible to receive the prize. Later, it was expanded to all nationalities.
- Important winners: 1st Indian origin winner – VS Naipaul, 1st Indian citizen winner – Arundhati Roy.
